

MITCHELLWEST UK & OVERSEAS SERVICES

Mitchellwest offer the complete sales power solution from the initial design all the way to installation and commissioning.

Mitchellwest are able to offer a non bias selection of manufacturers which are better suited for the application and project budget. Our strengths are found in our ability to be able to re-design the equipment , the customer is given freedom of choice to decide what make up they want on their diesel generator, we can select the alternator and engine best suited for load starts on site, we can consider any limitation there maybe for access to parts and technical staff that can be encountered in some remote location be it UK or Overseas locations.

Even simple things like replacement part lead time can be problematic so we consider availability and lead times for replacement parts when designing the solution. Critical Spare parts Kits can be recommended for high risk sites.

Our belief is not just about the design but also about the long term viability of the equipment, ensuring we have given the best solution of component parts such as;

Engine - alternator - engine control system - engine/UPS batteries - ect

Mitchellwest's ongoing investment and training allows us to offer added security and peace of mind by conducting power surveys, we are able to install equipment that will record over a period of time accurate site loads.

This information is then downloaded and analysed to confirm maximum loads that can be encountered on our clients sites.

This then allows for calculation of precise electrical loads enabling equipment to be sized more accurately and plan for contingencies to be built into the back up power solution offering longevity of the equipment being offered, so the site is able to grow into the equipment as opposed to the site outgrowing the back up power system.
